

THINGS TO DO AT DESERT SAFARI
DUBAI

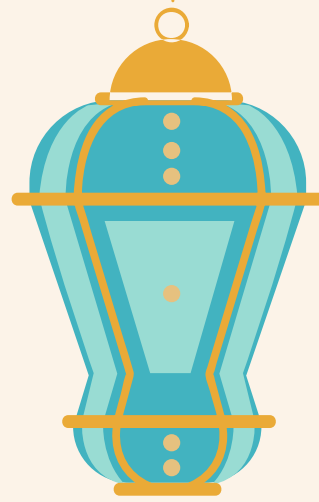

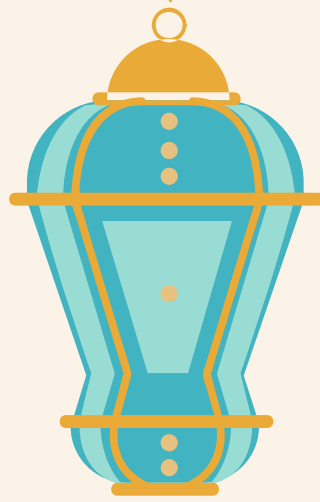

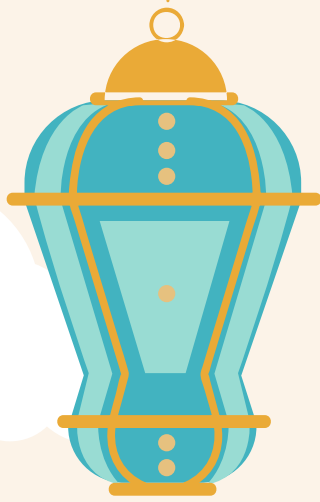

DUNE BASHING

Dune bashing is one of the most thrilling activities in a desert safari. It involves driving a 4x4 vehicle at high speeds over the sand dunes.

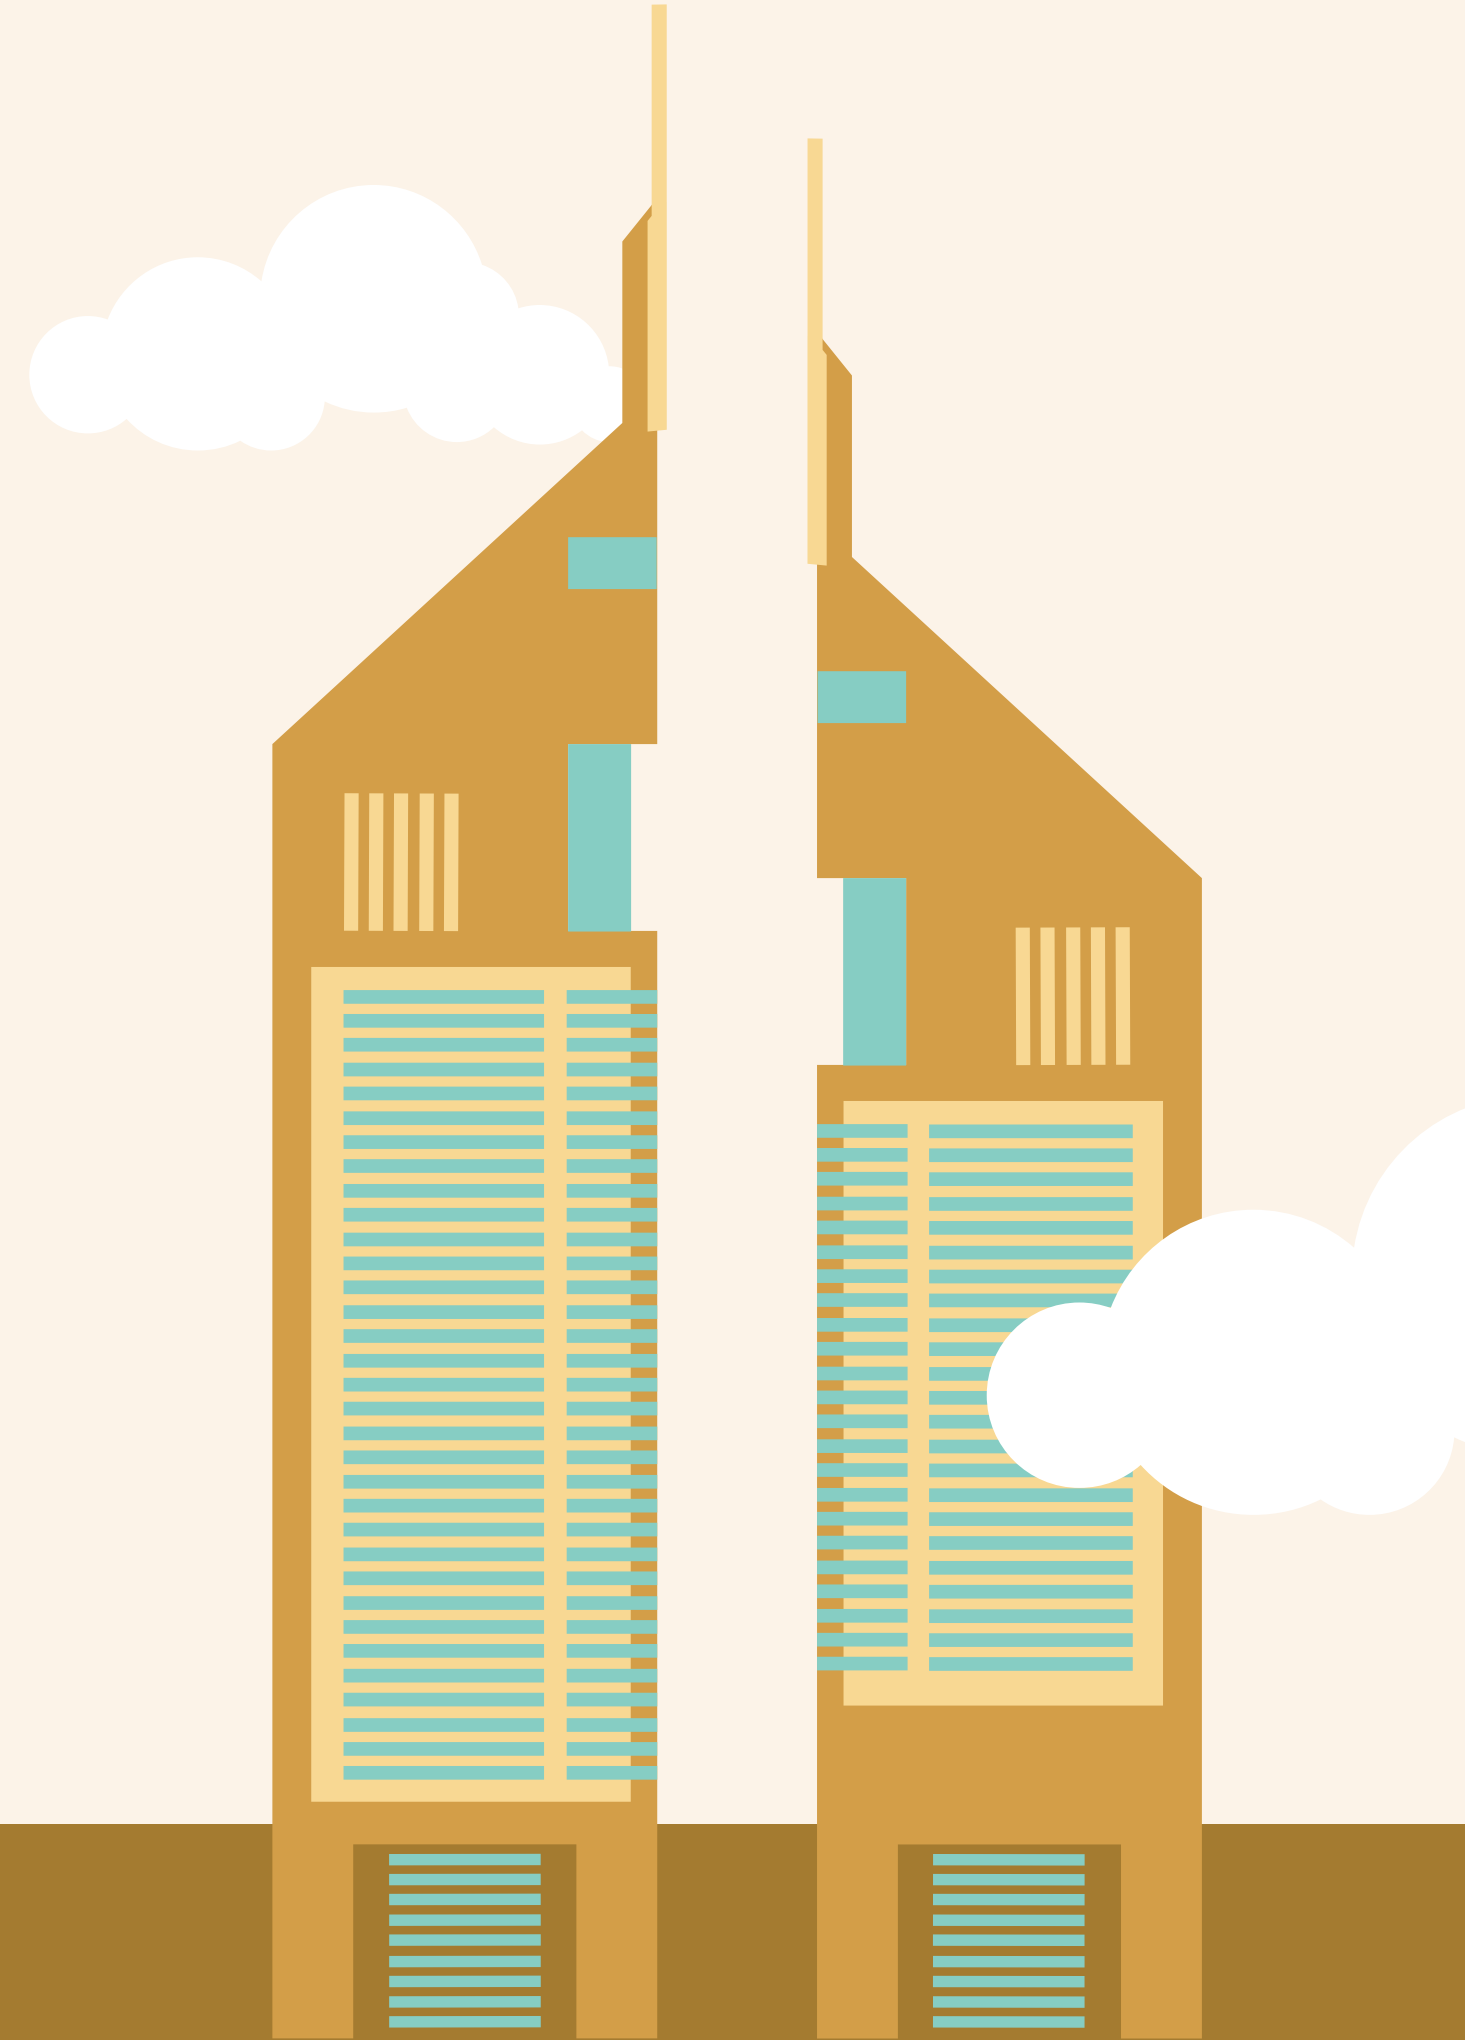

The experienced drivers navigate the challenging terrain, creating a roller-coaster-like experience. It's a heart-pounding adventure that gives you a taste of the desert's wild side.

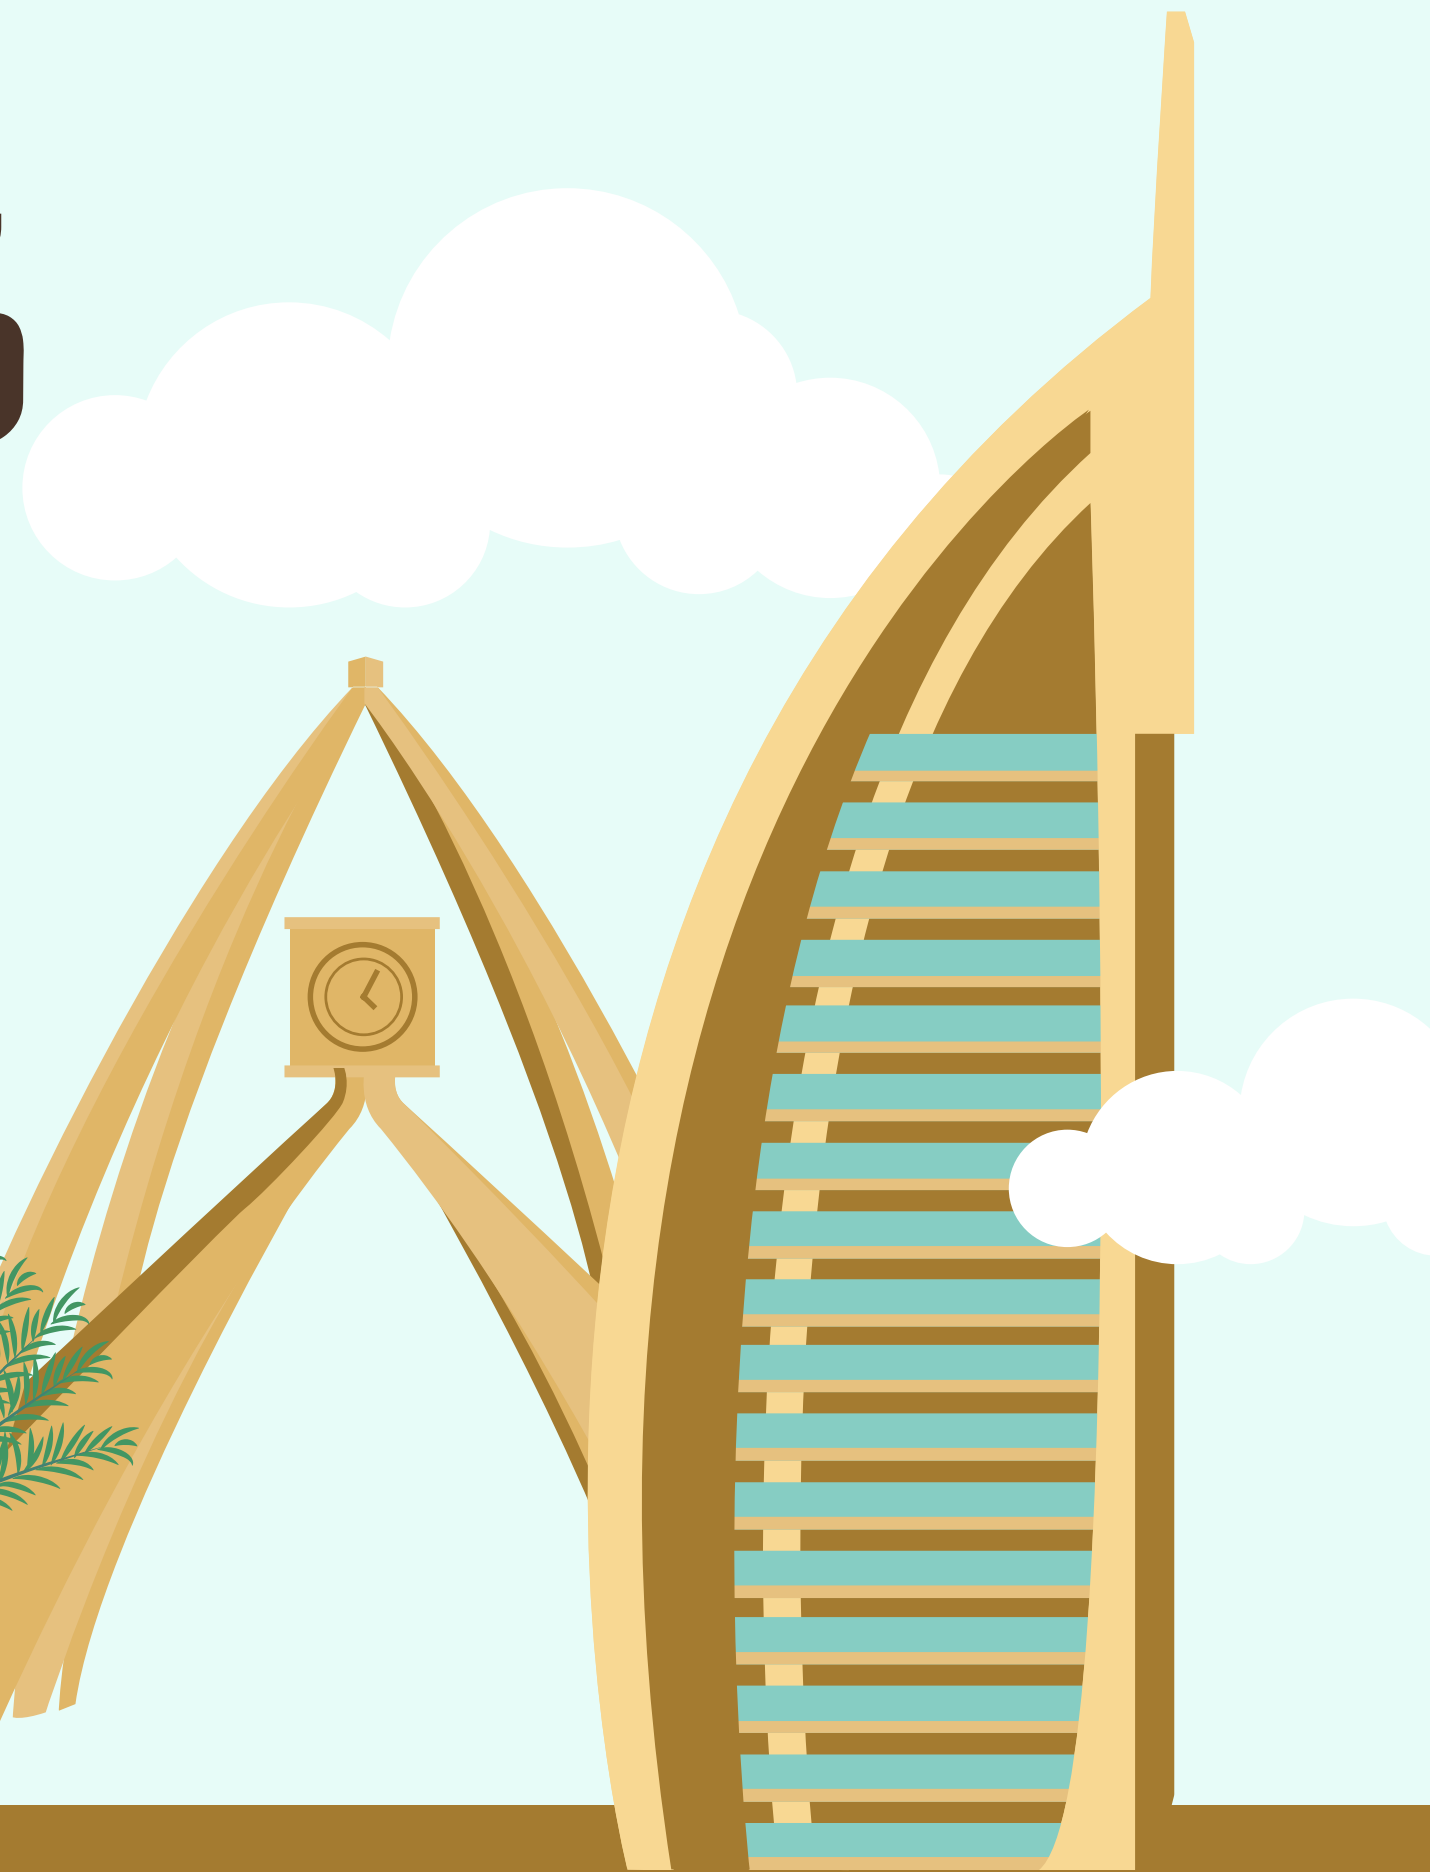

CAMEL RIDING

Camel riding, or "ship of the desert" experience, is a quintessential part of any desert safari. Riding a camel provides a unique and traditional way to explore the desert landscape. It's a slower-paced activity that allows you to take in the vast beauty of the dunes and enjoy a more leisurely perspective of the desert.

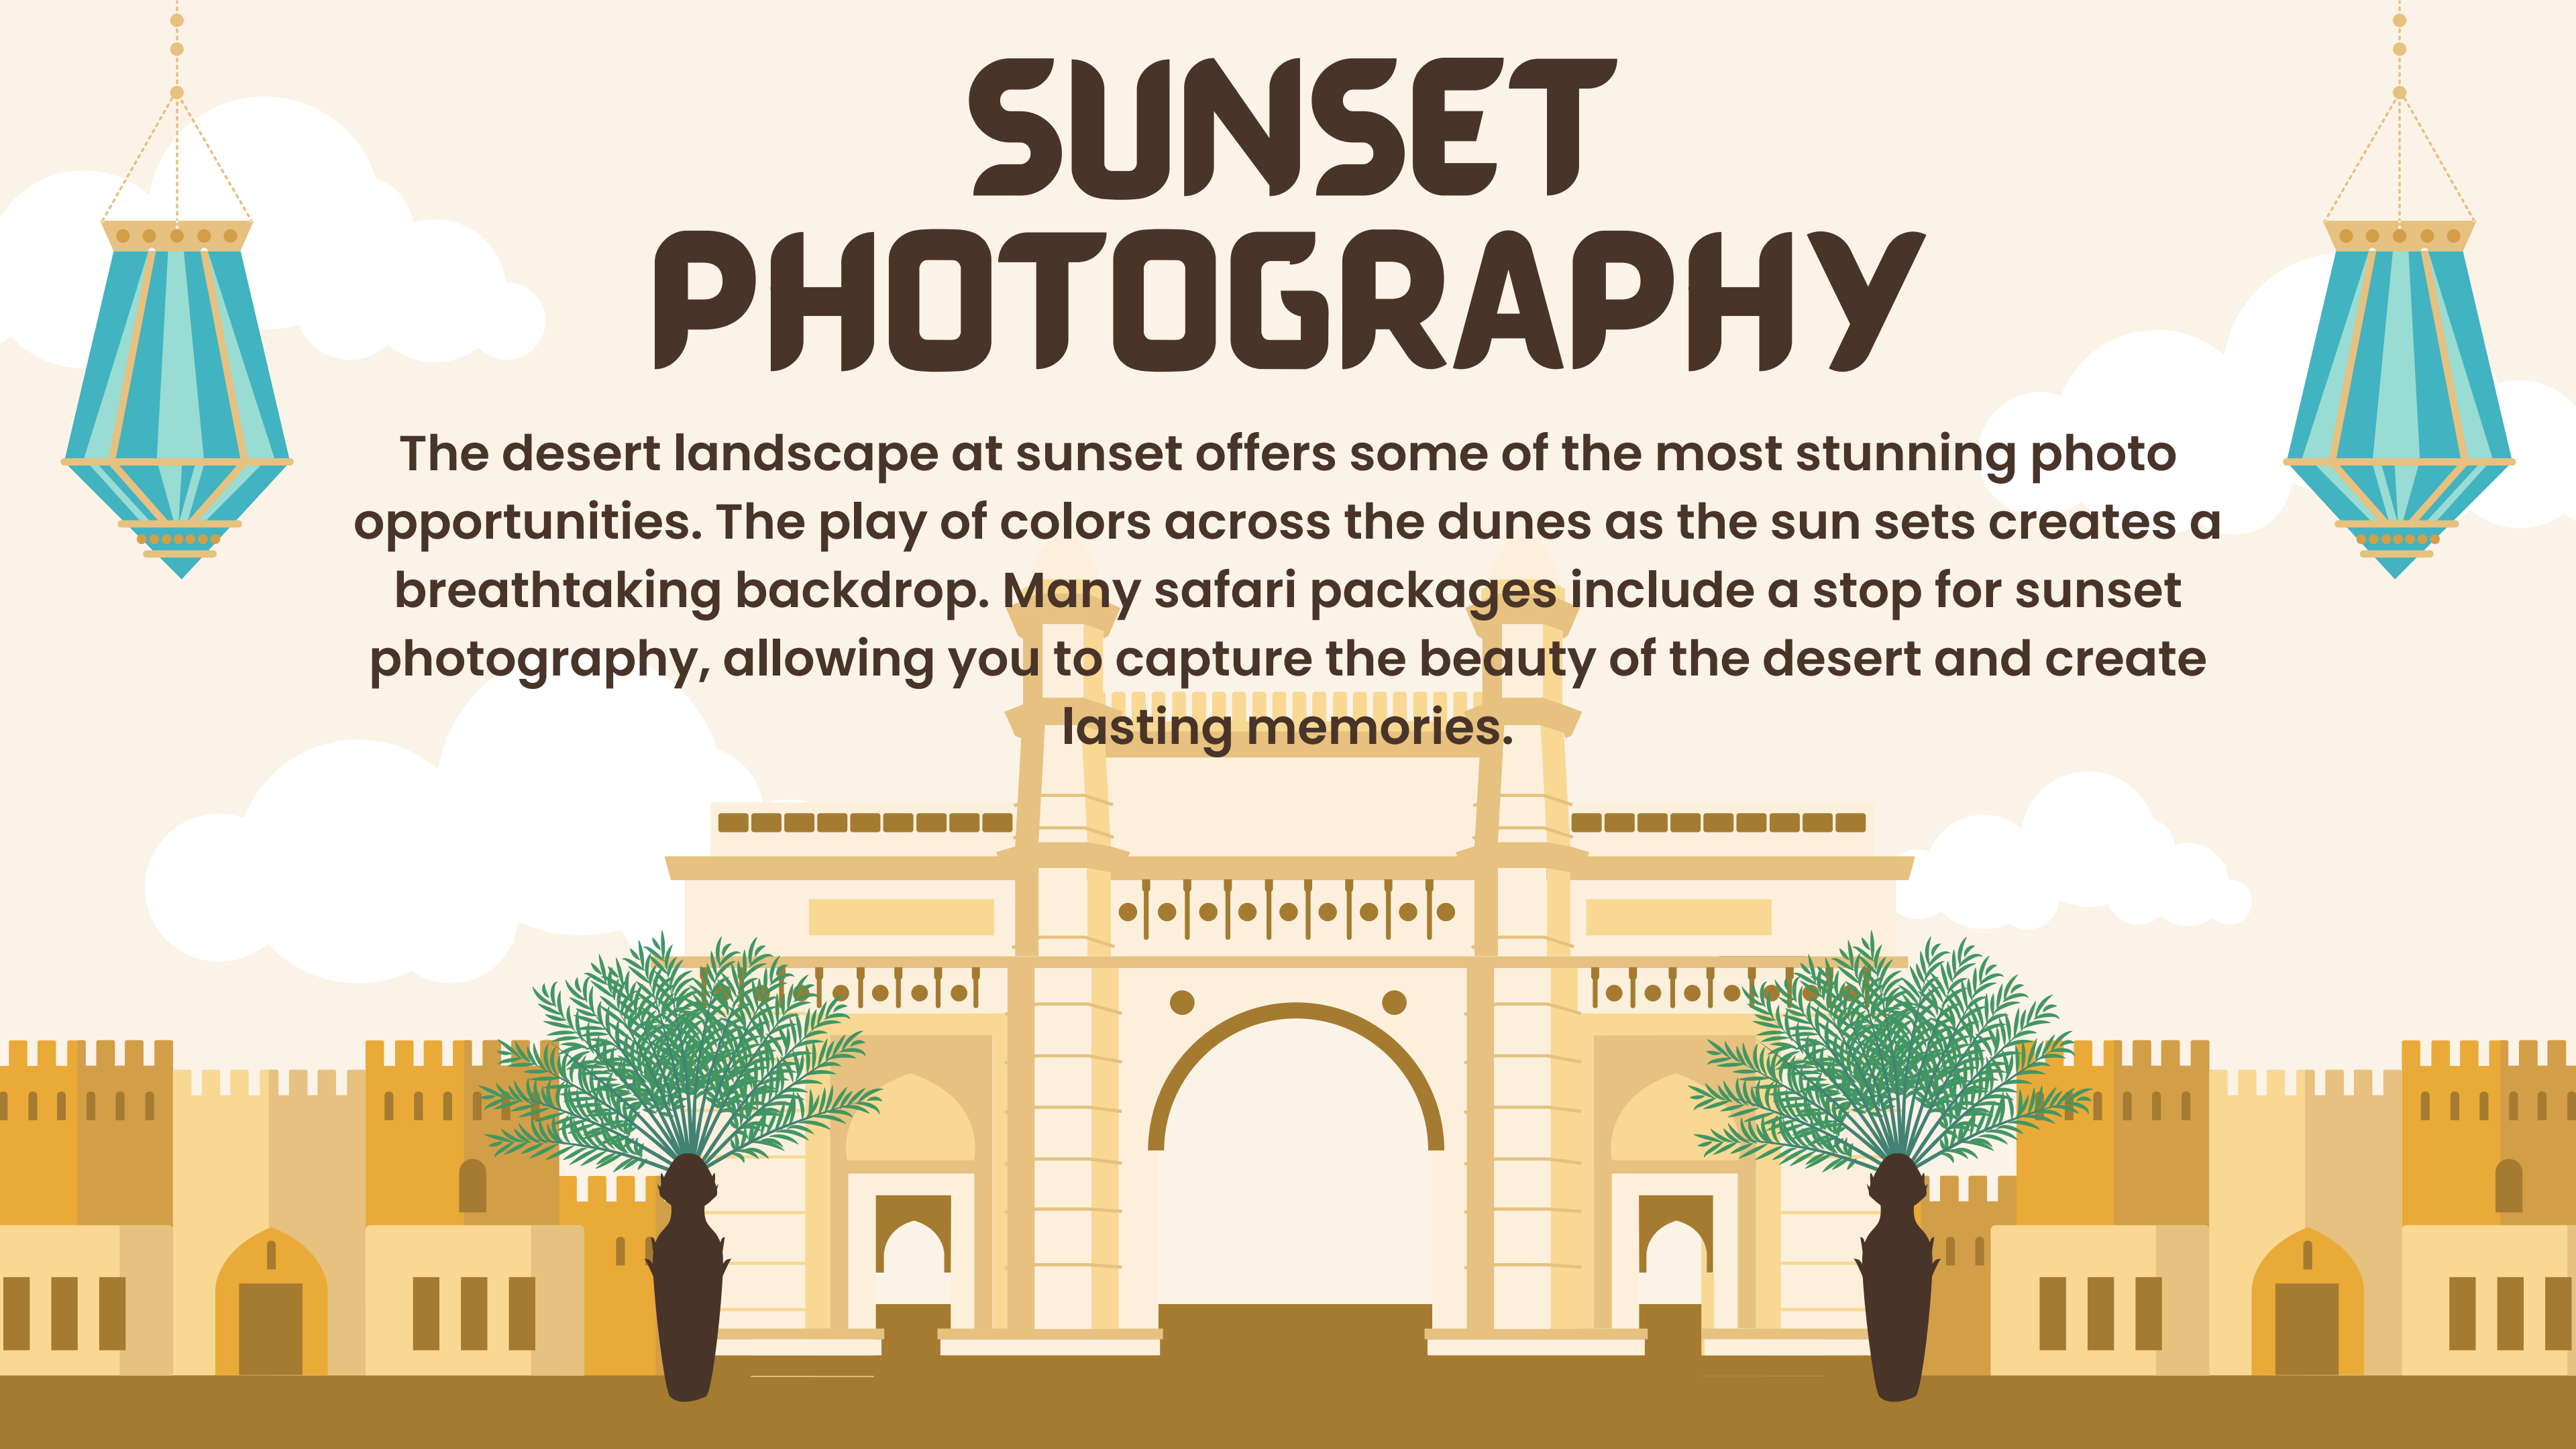

SANDBOARDING

For those who enjoy a bit of sport, sandboarding is a must-try. Similar to snowboarding, sandboarding involves gliding down the sand dunes on a board. It's a fun and exhilarating way to experience the desert's sandy slopes and offers a different kind of thrill compared to dune bashing.

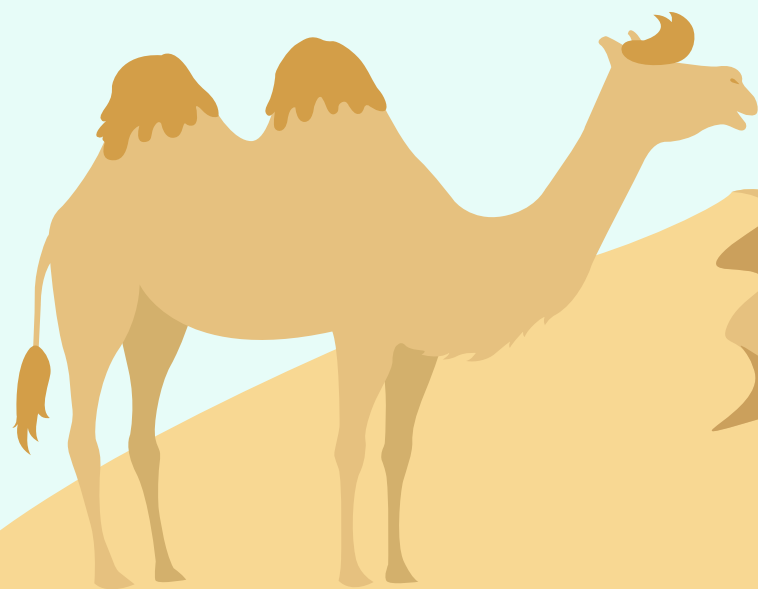

SUNSET PHOTOGRAPHY

The desert landscape at sunset offers some of the most stunning photo opportunities. The play of colors across the dunes as the sun sets creates a breathtaking backdrop. Many safari packages include a stop for sunset photography, allowing you to capture the beauty of the desert and create lasting memories.

TRADITIONAL ARABIAN DINNER AND ENTERTAINMENT

After the daytime adventures, many desert safari tours culminate in a traditional Arabian dinner at a desert camp. Guests can enjoy a buffet of local dishes while seated in a tented camp with traditional decor. Entertainment often includes belly dancing, Tanoura dance performances, and live music, providing a cultural and relaxing end to the safari experience.
